History of Iowa Churches of Christ

Dean Avenue — "The struggling congregation at Des Moines" (Dec. 19, 1922)

Does anyone remember the Church publication called the Apostolic Review? From the historical information on Dean Avenue Church of Christ the Apostolic Review reported quite a bit on the congregation's progress and growth during the early 1920's.

A Civil War veteran, who was either an evangelist or elder, published a letter in the Apostolic Review making a plea for financial aid for "the struggling congregation at Des Moines" and their efforts to complete their building.

Apostolic Review (1920-40) was edited by Daniel Sommer, who was influenced greatly by Benjamin Franklin.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN APPEALS FOR DES MOINES

— December 19, 1922 —

"It was my privilege to meet with this church two Lord's days, and I found a devoted band of Christians. But they are without a building, and have to pay $25.00 per month rent besides other incidental expenses. Most of the members are poor in this world's goods, but rich in the Faith once delivered to the saints.

They have a lot but are not able to build; and now brethren, you that have plenty and to spare, it is your duty to help the church of Christ build a house of worship in Des Moines, the capital city of Iowa, so they can save the extra expense and inconvenience they have to contend with.

"This congregation has several young sisters and brothers, and I was pleased to see the interest they took in worship. You know the church of Christ has no worldly attractions like our sectarian friends, and it is very difficult to get young folks interested in the Pure Gospel. So I hope churches not only in Iowa, but in every state, will lend a helping hand to the struggling congregation at Des Moines.

"Contributions sent to Eugene Suddeth 1640 E. Walnut St. will be thankfully received. Bro & Sister Suddeth are devoted Christians. I made my home with them while in Des Moines, and they treated me like a father.

"Your Bro. in Christ - T.H.B. Garner Spickard, Missouri"

Brethren and congregations around Iowa and beyond responded donating a little as $1.00 "sister from Pleasanton, Nebr." to as much as $111.90 "from Berea, Ia." and many various amounts in between. Toddville Church of Christ (now Center Point Road Church of Christ in east Iowa) donated $25.00 and "three monthly installments of $3.00"

This was big money back then and enabled the congregation to accomplish quite a bit. However, rumors started to spread that the congregation was having internal conflicts, which was not true. An excerpt from a Church report states the following:

January 23, 1923 - Report has reached some places [that] the church is divided here and that a faction had pulled away. This is absolutely false, and why it should have been made, I do not know. Though there are some things that hinder (such as some who fail to do their duty as they should) yet brethren are at peace among themselves.

Brethren we sincerely thank you for your fellowship in our efforts, without which the work could not have been accomplished. Pray we be able to keep the church pure and growing.

In Hope of Life Eternal- Eugene Suddeth

As the years went on the congregation grew in souls and "the meeting house" expanded. In the Spring of 1923, three brethren were appointed to manage the cost of materials and labor. The three were C.D. McCay, J.W. Gorrell and George Munger. The original building was completed in the Fall of 1923 with additions and remodels over the next twenty years.

There is an interesting note after this regarding brethren who served during WWII. It reads:

"There were approximately 23 members who served in the military services during World War II and just one lost his life, Leonard Fritz, U.S. Navy."

As the Dean Avenue congregation grew holding meetings and doing local mission work, the congregation was able to assist establish four other congregations in the Des Moines area:

Location	Year Started	Charter Members
Fort Des Moines	1933	25
59 th & University	1939	19
Martensdale	1948	8
Pleasant Hill	1959	44

The history also mentions that Dean Avenue assisted other Iowa congregations such as Cedar Rapids, Marshalltown, Council Bluffs and Mount Ayr, but then states "...we are saddened to report that these have all been disbanded, the meeting houses sold, and the few faithful members meet elsewhere."

We will end with a final note on Dean Avenue and the Vandalia congregation meeting together in 1946.

"Dean Ave. hadn't worked in fellowship with the Vandalia congregation for a number of years, but in November 1946, eleven brethren from Dean and 59th & University met with about the same number of brethren from the Vandalia and Newton congregations. These conditions were openly and frankly discussed, and they agreed in the future to unite their forces in an effort to build up the church of the living God. The meeting closed with much rejoicing as they all stood and sang 'Blest be the tie that binds'. The congregations have exchanged talent and worked in close harmony ever since."

The Dean Avenue Church of Christ did a phenomenal work with awesome fervor evangelizing the state of Iowa. Something for us to consider. Don't the lost souls in Iowa need this type of zealous evangelizing again?

From L to R: C.D. McCay (?), Thompson, Eugen Suddeth (?), Mabrey, C.R. Turner, W.G. Roberts, Ralph Anderson, John Rhodes, Carl Ketcherside, E.M. Zerr. November 22nd, 1936.

Many thanks to everyone who shared information on the history of the Iowa congregations. The stories are edifying and fascinating. This history seemed to stir memories of a very zealous and fruitful work! Any other stories or photos you would like to share for possible publication please send to iowalighthouseletter@gmail.com.
